T H E WASHINGTON INSTITUTE

November 18, 1988

Dear Sir/Madam:

The Washington Institute invites you to attend a conference on "Korean Challenges and American Policy," chaired by Dr. Ilpyong Kim, Professor of Political Science at the University of Connecticut. It will be held on December 7-8, 1988 at the Key Bridge Marriott Hotel in Arlington, Virginia.

Please see the enclosed agenda for more specific details. Each session will involve brief summaries of the papers and allow ample time for questions and discussion. We anticipate a professionally rewarding experience for everyone involved and hope that you will be able to join us for the program.

If you would like to attend, please complete and return the enclosed registration card (one per person) by Friday, December 2. The conference fee -- $100.00 (academics, government employees and officials and non-profit organizations) and $400 (businessmen, private individuals and others) -- will enable you to attend all functions and meals listed on the program, including a welcoming reception the evening of December 6, and entitle you to copies of all conference papers. Checks should be made payable to "The Washington Institute" and sent in along with your registration card.

Lodging is not included in the fee. A guest room at the hotel, either single or double, is $125.93 per night. If you would like to stay at the hotel and have us make the reservations for you, please add the appropriate amount to the check for your conference fee. (All fees are non-refundable.)

If you should have any questions regarding the conference, please contact Ms. Kimberly Bunch or Terry Fleming at (202) 293-7440. I am looking forward to meeting you at the program.

Sincerely,

Neil Albert Salonen

Director
